

PILOT'S SKILL SAVES 43—A quick-thinking pilot who crash-landed this twin-engine airliner in a tiny clearing was credited with saving the lives of 43 persons aboard when an engine failed shortly after taking off from Memphis, Tenn. Thirty-four persons were hospitalized, but 17 were released soon afterward. Pilot Ed Hatch brought the craft down in a heavily-wooded area after his right engine caught fire. Quick arrival of firemen on the scene prevented the plane from burning.

TEMPERS FLY IN ASSEMBLY AS FEPC BILL DIES EARLY

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, June 23—(AP)—FEPC legislation met death a week ahead of schedule in Ohio's senate.

Six Democrats joined 11 Republicans in dealing the mortal blow Wednesday night. It came on the 12th roll call after three hours of debate at the end of a six-hour session. Senators refused 17-13 to accept a senate-house conference report recommending a compulsory FEPC bill. Backers of the conference "compromise" had planned to delay a vote on the report until next Wednesday. They wanted time to try winning over senate Democrats who backed an educational FEPC program. But the coalition sensed the kill and forced the fatal vote.

Empty Bag Of Tricks
Backers of Gov. Frank Lausche emptied their bag of parliamentary tricks trying to save the compulsory plan he supported. Democratic leaders tried four times to adjourn the session to stave off defeat but failed.

Tempers flared occasionally. One senator accused another of calling him a S. O. B. Witnesses for night committee hearings began arriving before debate ended about 8 p. m.

Sen. Howard M. Metzger (D-Cuyahoga), conference committee chairman, said he does not plan an attempt to revive the issue. Another conference committee could be named but it will not be requested, he added.

Leaders of dissident Democrats indicated they want voters to decide the question at the polls in November. Sens. Edwin F. Sawicki and William M. Boyd, Cleveland Democrats, hint they will push for hearings on a resolution to change the state constitution. It seeks enactment of laws to ban racial and religious discrimination in employment.

The senate labor committee has held the senate-house proposal since Feb. 8 without hearings. Metzger set up the evening fireworks display early. He submitted the conference committee report about 2 p. m. after start of the session. Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), senate majority leader, tried to schedule a vote on it for next Wednesday. She said the house of representatives planned to vote on the report simultaneously. Foes of compulsory FEPC didn't want to delay the vote and Metzger withdrew his report.

Pass Other Bills
Senators then passed eight regularly scheduled bills. Midway in the voting, Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum) moved to reconsider the permission granted to withdraw the conference report. The motion lost.

Boyd blew off the lid after regular business was transacted. He renewed the request to reconsider. That touched off long debate over senate rules and technicalities. Senators raised "points of order" and claimed "personal privilege" to gain the floor. Fourteen of the 30 senators present got into the act.

A high spot was Sen. Arthur Blake's claim that Miss Mahoney called him a S. O. B. "I absolutely deny it," Miss Mahoney shot back. "Don't you look at me and tell me that," shouted the Belmont county Democrat shaking his finger. "You came to my desk and said 'why don't you quit being an S. O. B. and go along with us,'" Blake declared.

"Of all the things I might have called him, I didn't say that," Miss Mahoney told the senate.

Blake also objected to activities of a labor union lobbyist. "I've Turn To TEMPER FLY Page 10

Accident Ties Up
Akron Rail Branch
MT. VERNON, June 23—(AP)—The Akron branch line of the Pennsylvania railroad was tied up today after derailment of 17 freight cars at Danville, 16 miles northeast of here.

The 17 cars of a Columbus-to-Canton train piled up over a 50-yard stretch of track, it was reported.

Railroad officials said it would be late afternoon before service was restored on the line.

An operator's tower was damaged when it was hit by three of the derailed cars. The tower is situated at a point where State Route 62 crosses the tracks.

Mrs. Ruth Gibbs, the tower operator, and her daughter Bonnie Italiano, 10, suffered hand cuts climbing through a broken window after the crash.

Three empty tank cars and 14 cars loaded with glass, bales of cotton and grain derailed. While railroad officials declined to comment, newsmen at the scene were told a broken flange on one of the wheels caused the accident.

The 26th car of the train had passed the tower when the 26th car and the following 16 cars left the rails, it was reported.

FARM MARKETING SURVEY UNDER WAY
An apple and peach production and marketing survey is being made in Columbiana, Mahoning, Stark, and Carroll counties, according to County Agent Floyd Lower.

The survey was suggested by a committee of local growers who are working on improvement of marketing facilities and is being supervised by the extension agents of these counties with the help of the Ohio Experiment station. A number of growers who are assisting with the survey will visit other growers to get the data needed.

The work began in Columbiana county this week and it is expected it will be largely completed in the four counties by the middle of July. Only apples and peaches are included in the survey.

A study of the market as it pertains to apples and peaches will be made in Salem, Youngstown, Canton, and Alliance. This will begin about the middle of August. The purpose of both studies is to get information that will assist the local growers in improving their marketing operations and facilities. Lower said.

Work Relief Jobs In County Begun
LISBON, June 23—Working out of relief orders is again being adopted by the Columbiana County Welfare department, with recent applications of employable persons for assistance, Director Matthew A. Curry announced.

The procedure was adopted after a recent ruling by attorney general stating the recipient is not precluded from benefits under the unemployment compensation.

While the county relief picture is being kept at a minimum, Richard L. Andrus, in charge of direct relief said temporary aid is being granted in a few emergency cases bringing the case load to 194 involving 421 persons at a cost of approximately $5,000 last month. The picture compares with 46 cases recorded in January, 1948, and 140 cases last January.

The work relief will be handled similar to a former program, with employables working out county relief on township road programs, with the trustees of the several townships agreeing to supervise and keep time records on men employed on ditching and brush cutting along township roads, Curry stated.

Meter Collection Shown
LISBON, June 23—Collection from parking meters yesterday totaled $226.46, making a total of $510.46 for the three weeks since they were placed in operation. Mayor Kenneth Hiscok reported today. In addition, $62 has been paid into police court by overtime parkers.

Answer Alarm
LISBON, June 23—Heavy smoke in Crook's restaurant, near the courthouse, brought the volunteer fire department this morning. A burned out motor in the refrigerator in the basement, was the cause.

No damage resulted, except to the motor.

TESTIMONIES NEAR END FOR MISS COPLON

Swears Relations With Attorney Were O. K.;
Loses Composure

WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP)—Judith Coplon's impassioned defense of her morals and her loyalty brought her close to the end of her cross-examination today.

Government Prosecutor John M. Kelley, Jr., said he might finish his questioning before the end of the day.

As Kelley hammered away yesterday at Miss Coplon's story of a kissless romance with Russian Engineer Valentine A. Gubitchev, the calm she had displayed during most of her long espionage trial evaporated.

Loses Composure
Once she leaned forward in the witness chair and shouted: "You have branded me as a spy and now you are trying to brand me as a harlot!"

She swore that her all-night trysts with Justice Department Lawyer N. P. Shapiro in Baltimore and Philadelphia hotels and in his Washington apartment involved no improper conduct. She has testified these meetings occurred at a time when she thought she loved Gubitchev.

"I have come to the conclusion that Mr. Shapiro is a part of this whole frame-up," she stormed. She demanded Kelley call Shapiro, a justice department attorney, as a witness in the trial. Kelley suggested that her attorney, Archibald Palmer, call him. Palmer told reporters he had no intention of doing so.

Kelley brought Shapiro's name into the trial Tuesday after having the defendant repeat the story of her romance with Gubitchev. Shapiro has not been available for comment.

Wanted To Marry Her
When his name came up again yesterday, Miss Coplon said Shapiro, too, had told her he loved her and wanted her to marry him, but that her relations with him were platonic.

"I did not want to marry him because I did not love him," she snapped at Kelley.

She said Shapiro first learned of Gubitchev when she asked his help in choosing a necktie she gave the Russian for Christmas, 1948. She added that Shapiro disapproved of her dating a Russian, and argued with her about it.

When Kelley referred to the night of Jan. 7—a night which Miss Coplon spent in a Baltimore hotel room with Shapiro—she fumed:

"Nothing ever happened that you intimated happened."

As for the following night in a Philadelphia hotel, she testified: "He didn't make any improper advances. I was fully clothed, Mr. Kelley."

County Names Banks For Depositing Funds
LISBON, June 23—Columbiana county commissioners have adopted a resolution designating depositories for county monies for the coming year.

The First National bank of Salem is included, where the county will have $500,000 on deposit. The Farmers National bank will have $100,000. The Peoples State bank of Lisbon will have $500,000; Firestone bank of Lisbon, $500,000; First National bank of East Liverpool, $700,000; Pottery Bank & Trust of East Liverpool, $400,000; Pottery Bank & Trust of Wellsville, $200,000; First National bank of East Palestine, $150,000; New Waterford bank, $250,000.

Inactive deposits will be made at four banks.

West's Political, Diplomatic Fate Hinges On Economic Status, Belief

Reports By Truman,
Cripps Vital Keys
In World's Future

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, June 23—(UP)—A political and diplomatic zero hour for the western world has been fixed for the early days of July.

On or about July 5, the British government will reveal its trade position for the second quarter of 1949. It will contain bad news.

On or about July 10, President Truman will make his semi-annual report to congress on business and employment conditions in the United States. There will be some bad news in that, too. But whether Truman and his advisers will find the situation critical or merely less favorable remains to be seen.

These two reports will be best sellers in the Kremlin and in every capital city concerned in the cold war between east and west. The Russians will study them to learn whether the United States depression, for which they hope and pray, has begun.

Would Aid Russia
A real depression here, of course, would be followed by an economic uproar in all the Marshall plan countries and probably throughout the world. Dispatches now report European statesmen and intelligent citizens much more concerned about the possibility of an American depression than a war with Communist Russia.

The British report will be made by Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer who corresponds to our Secretary of Treasury. It is almost inevitable now that Cripps will have to report a serious situation arising from that fact that some of the United Kingdom's rich postwar markets have been drying up.

Under the Marshall plan, the United States has been contributing approximately $1,000,000,000 a year to support the British economy. That sum went to make up the difference between what the British could earn by exporting goods and what they had to spend on imports.

In the first quarter of this year—January, February and March—a serious lag began to develop in British trade. The money the British were receiving from us under the Marshall plan on a monthly basis was not sufficient to bridge the gap between what the British earned selling in foreign markets and what they spent buying in foreign markets.

The situation is as though a bank had been making up the deficit of a private business at so much per month and the private business went into the red for more money than the bank could or would advance under those circumstances, the private business would become bankrupt barring emergency measures to reduce expenses.

Now it appears that the second quarter of 1949—April, May and June—will show the lag between British sales abroad and British purchases abroad to be greater than earlier in the year. The British have a working capital of about $2,000,000,000 in dollar reserves. During these past few months they have dipped into that working capital to make up their deficit.

Sound economists believe they cannot permit their working capital to go far below $2,000,000,000. Therefore, when Sir Stafford reports the bad news to the British people and the world next month he may make some recommendations for correcting the situation.

Would Hurt Program
Sec. Acheson told the senate committee that a delay in action on the two programs would destroy the "momentum" of American foreign policy—the policy which he declared was responsible for the success of the Marshall plan.

Rep. Mansfield (D) of Montana called the timing a "touchy matter" and said he thought the treaty should be ratified before the house starts work on an arms bill.

Rep. Vorys (R) of Ohio said some members of the house committee had been reluctant to act too soon on the arms program for fear the senate might object. Since that seemed unlikely after Sec. Acheson's conference with the senate committee, Vorys said, "I think we had better get on with the job."

TOUGH SCRAP EXPECTED AS TALKS OPEN

Lewis Meets Soft Coal Company Spokesmen In Two Sessions

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., June 23—(AP)—John L. Lewis takes on two big chunks of the soft coal industry contract in talks today, and there was every sign he is in for a tough scrap.

Lewis and a committee of United Mine Workers will meet with operators from the north and west, and part of the south, in the morning. Later, the miners were to sit down with Harry M. Moses, negotiator for U. S. Steel Corporation who usually speaks for all steel companies having "captive" soft coal pits for their own use.

Lewis yesterday kidded about a time-table which would strike the Southern Coal Producers association's mines—in the absence of a new contract—after June 30, when the present pact expires. Under the same program, Lewis would close down after July 14 the pits of U. S. Steel Corporation.

Requires Notice
The Taft-Hartley act requires either party to a contract desiring to end or modify it must notify the other party 60 days ahead of time. However, Lewis' contract with the bituminous coal industry expires June 30, and there is no provision for continuing it after that.

The Southern Coal Producers association, headed by Joseph E. Moody, decided to grab the ball away from Lewis this year. Moody notified the miners in April the contract expires, and asked for conference to talk about a new agreement. The southerners would abolish employer-financed pensions, paid lunch periods, and tighten up eligibility for the welfare fund benefits and the $100 yearly vacation allowance.

Lewis and the Southern association are holding bargaining meetings at Bluefield, W. Va.

So Moody's own action exposes him to the possibility of a strike in southern pits after the miners' vacation ends July 5.

Lewis took the initiative with U. S. Steel. He asked for conferences in a letter to Moses dated May 14. That would make it possible for Lewis to strike the U. S. Steel mines, producing 27 million tons annually, after July 14.

Danny Keister, a Salem High school student attending the annual Boys' State at Delaware, Ohio, has been elected a state senator.

James Ketchum, Lisbon, was appointed a county commissioner by Gov. William Goettman of Springfield. Robert Grim of Homeworth and George Nicholson of Alliance were named clerks of court. Robert Little of East Liverpool was elected a mayor and John Thomas of Alliance was elected a senator.

Governor Goettman is to present his budget message today in a joint senate-house session. The mock government is sponsored by the American Legion.

Taken To Lima
LISBON, June 23—Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman today conveyed Eugene Wolfe of East Liverpool to the Lima state hospital for a period of examination. He was found guilty to an armed robbery of the A & P store in Liverpool.

His period of examination will not exceed 60 days.

CINCINNATI, June 23—(AP)—Efforts to end a six-week strike at the Selby Shoe Company in Portsmouth will be resumed here today and federal conciliators said 250,000 shoe workers will be affected indirectly by any agreement.

The strike of 2,400 Selby workers started May 16 in a dispute over a wage agreement.

Officials of the company and Local 117 United Shoe Workers (CIO) met here yesterday with Federal Conciliators George Bell and Martin Swauger but failed to settle their differences. They agreed, however, to try it again today.

CINCINNATI, June 23—(AP)—Efforts to end a six-week strike at the Selby Shoe Company in Portsmouth will be resumed here today and federal conciliators said 250,000 shoe workers will be affected indirectly by any agreement.

The strike of 2,400 Selby workers started May 16 in a dispute over a wage agreement.

Officials of the company and Local 117 United Shoe Workers (CIO) met here yesterday with Federal Conciliators George Bell and Martin Swauger but failed to settle their differences. They agreed, however, to try it again today.

Will Affect Industry
The conciliators said shoe workers throughout the nation would be affected by any agreement because a contract with the Selby company would be considered a "benchmark" for succeeding contracts between the shoe workers and other companies.

There were observers from companies in St. Louis, New York, Cincinnati and other points at the meeting.

The conciliators said the negotiations are the first of any importance in the shoe manufacturing industry.

Principal point at issue is an escalator clause in the old contract which provided for wage change depending on the rise or fall in the cost of living index.

At the time the contract expired the workers were getting a 22 cents an hour cost of living bonus. The company is seeking to have that amount incorporated in a piece work wage rate structure while the union wants the bonus continued without change.

Union officials have said, however, they are willing to have the bonus included in the wage structure if they can be guaranteed protection from what they describe as "evaporation of past increases" through changing piece work rates.

Youngstown Pool Closed By Incident
YOUNGSTOWN, June 23—(AP)—Racial conflict forced the closing of one of Youngstown's six city-operated swimming pools last yesterday. But park commission members said all of the pools will be placed in operation again today.

Nathaniel C. Lee, Negro, member of the community relations committee of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People and his three children entered the east side pool. A few moments later most of a crowd of 1,000 other swimmers milled around and threatened the father and his children.

Lee was warned police reported to leave or "see your children drowned."

Bruce Hamm, manager of the pool, called police and, acting on orders of the park commission, closed the pool for the day.

Three Drivers Fined
Three drivers were fined for traffic violations in district courts Wednesday, following arrests by the state highway patrol.

Ralph F. Fowler, 34, of R. D. 1, Lisbon was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Kenneth Hiscok of Lisbon for speeding.

Clayton M. Hulslander, 33, of Warren forfeited a $50 bond to Mayor C. C. Leatherberry of Wellsville, for driving left of center.

Albert Greene, 38, of East Palestine was fined $10 and costs by Justice Earl Spalding of East Palestine for having no driver's license.

Distaff Diplomacy

President Truman's appointment of Mrs. Perle Mesta as the first full-time United States minister to Luxembourg (999 square miles, approximately 300,000 people) will raise some eyebrows. Mrs. Mesta was chosen obviously because of her friendship for the Trumans.

But she isn't the first American to reach diplomatic circles because of friendship. And if anyone wants to contend that Mrs. Mesta lacks qualifications for diplomacy, her defenders may be expected to report that she was born with more qualifications than some of the men who have represented the United States in foreign capitals.

In other words, the underlying reason why eyebrows will be hoisted over Mrs. Mesta's appointment is her sex—and that's no reason at all. Chances are that she will know more about Luxembourg and Luxembourg will know more about the United States after she has been on the job a year than ever was known before. It took more than a big bank account for Mrs. Mesta to win her spurs as Washington's No. 1 hostess. If she could learn the ropes in the District of Columbia (89 square miles, approximately 700,000 people) Mrs. Mesta should be able to sail the ship of state in Luxembourg without even cabling Washington for fresh instructions.

A Reluctant Conclusion

There is a reluctant conclusion to be reached about the limited success of the latest conference plain that the ministers, as spokesmen for their of the foreign ministers of the Big Four. It is government, lack the power to settle all the problems and questions of peace. It is plain, too, that they never had this power.

It could have materialized only with the help of a circumstance that never existed—a shared determination to reach a common goal. As soon as it became evident that no common goal was possible, with the Soviet union determined to carry out its policies at any expense, the United States, Great Britain and France fell back on their own policies. That created a standoff.

Whether the latest conference should be called a limited success or a limited failure, the fact is it did not fulfill any of the high hopes held out for such conferences when the war ended. There was an interval when optimists believed the major powers could get together to decide almost anything. That dream has been shattered.

They can decide only what is ripe for decision—the lifting of the siege of Berlin, for example. When they meet again in the fall, they may be able to reach agreement on a peace treaty for Austria. But it may be a long time—and it may never come to pass at all—that they can lay down a definitive plan for Germany.

The affairs of large populations are not subject to edict, even if four governments with diverse backgrounds and aims could agree on the edict. The credo that committees, councils and conferences would be able to do after World War II what had proved impossible whenever it was tried in the past has been set aside with as much grace as those who wanted to believe in it can muster, in their disappointment. The affairs of men cannot be ordered by blueprints and master policies, because men do not think that way.

That is plainer now than it was before the latest conference of the foreign ministers.

A Matter of Degrees

Perhaps calendar reform, when it's achieved some thousands of years from now, will do away with the foolish technicality of summer's not being officially here until June 21.

Summer came one lovely day last April when spring had worn out its welcome. But in line with other technical difficulties beyond human control, it was still spring until June 21. And it hadn't officially begun to be spring until March 21, though everybody was proclaiming spring as early as February.

This comes about, of course, because the seasons are matters of degrees, not of emotion. On March 21 and September 23, the spring and autumn equinoxes, night and day are equal the world over because the axis of the earth is exactly at right angles to the direction of the sun. In June, on the other hand, the degree of tilt relative to the sun has changed until the days are longer than the nights. Meanwhile, the earth is accumulating heat at a greater rate during the days than the rate of loss at night, which accounts for nothing being so rare as a day in June, sun-burn, and a feeling of annoyance whenever some stickler for technicalities announces that summer is just beginning when everybody else is beginning to regret the fact it's half over.

But Not All The People

Vice President Barkley, summing up the case for big government before the June graduates of a business college, said flatly that "additional government regulation is necessary, inevitable and wanted by the people."

There's that all-inclusive phrase, "the people" again. The vice president makes it sound as if all the people wanted more government regulation. That's silly. The fastest-growing issue in the United States is whether or not government should systematically nibble into every nook and cranny of American life. Some people think it should. Some think it shouldn't. In years to come, the struggle between these points of view will make history. In the remote event that the left-government-run-everything crowd prevails, that will make history too—the decline and fall of one more civilization that was bled to death by political parasitism.

But here again it needs to be pointed out that some politicians are not parasites. James P. Hyman, a professional Democrat politician, said a few days ago that the growth of a welfare state threatens the destruction of America. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who undoubtedly is a very important politician, even more outspoken. I firmly believe that the group of persons who urge greater and greater centralization of authority and greater and greater dependence upon the federal treasury are really more dangerous to our form of government than any external threat that can possibly be arrayed against us."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was a fair-to-middling politician in his day, warned that America could be destroyed by the new "implements" of public power created while he was president. And Alfred Sloan, who isn't a politician but is well paid for knowing what's going on, recently told a meeting of General Motors dealers that the drift into state socialism is destroying the confidence of investors in the future of free enterprise.

No, Vice President Barkley, not all the people want more government regulation. There are still a few million who don't believe politicians are any smarter than the people they'd like to regulate.

Overacting, "showoff" pretensions or other drastic or impulsive procedure might have power to complicate affairs already well on their way to profitable and happy consummation.

The mind is in a state of confusion, indecision or doubt and the inclination to take action under the drive of impulses and emotional tempests, could defeat and stand in the way of some sort of subtle solution of a surprising and intriguing nature. Better listen for underground promptings, idealistic and imaginative, rather than crass realism.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of peculiar experiences or contacts, in which strange under-currents may have weight against rampant realism, with forced issues, strenuous and impelling, even though the mental approach may be wavering and dubious. Complications, false moves and untenable reasoning could ruin exceptional benefits arising from obscure or intriguing sources. Intuitions or "hunches" are keen, but should be analyzed on practical premises.

A child born on this day, while impulsive and ardent, may find itself making decisions from inner urges rather than logic and practical basis. Peculiar drives should be cautiously analyzed.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. HERMAN BUNDESON

ADULTS have no monopoly on sinus infection. Children—and even babies—are frequent sufferers from this disorder. Fortunately, we have in the germ-killing drugs, such as penicillin, excellent weapons for cutting down the severity of the attacks and for keeping the condition from becoming chronic.

The sinuses are air spaces in the bones of the face and head connected by narrow openings with the nose. Several of these sinuses are present in the baby at birth. These include the maxillary sinuses, located in the cheek bones, and the ethmoid sinuses. The sphenoid sinuses develop at the age of about five or six years. The frontal sinuses in the forehead do not develop until about the eighth or ninth year of life.

Lack of Thyroid

There are a number of things which may contribute to inflammation of the sinuses. These include infections, allergy or over-sensitivity and disturbances of the glands of internal secretions, such as a lack of thyroid secretion.

The baby under 18 months of age with a sinus infection will have fever and other symptoms of infection. There is a nasal discharge, which is usually thick and yellow.

Treatment of the sinus infection includes, first of all, the giving of one of the various substances which combat the germs. One of the sulfonamide drugs, together with penicillin is generally satisfactory. The two preparations together usually give a better effect than either alone. Exactly what preparations to employ depends upon the kind of germs producing the infection. The penicillin is best given by injection into a muscle.

The baby should be kept in a room which is comfortably warm and in which there is enough moisture in the air.

Local treatment consists of gently sucking out the secretions with a rubber bulb every few hours, followed by the use in the nose of a warm, non-irritating preparation which contracts the

COLUMBIANA METERS WORK

Parking Devices Installed: Village To Get Fire Truck

COLUMBIANA, June 23—Installation of parking meters in Columbian is virtually completed, the service starting with 98 meters.

On the advice of Engineer L. C. Skinner, who supervised the installation, the number is limited, the service to be expanded as conditions warrant. Council will hold an adjourned meeting next Tuesday evening to consider the meter situation and some other matters.

Coin combinations up to the two-hour parking limit are one penny for 12 minutes, or one to ten pennies up to the two hours; a nickel for one hour and additional pennies up to two hours, or two nickels for two hours. The nickels may be deposited at once.

Meter hours will be on week days, Monday through Friday 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., and on Saturday to 9 p. m.

To Buy New Fire Engine
Council, at its meeting Tuesday evening, directed the clerk to advertise for bids for a new fire engine to replace No. 1 pumper purchased in 1922. Bids will be received on pumbers with capacities to throw streams of 500 gallons and 750 gallons a minute, each to have a booster tank of perhaps 600 gallons, cab and ladders and other equipment.

Don Cox of the Seagraves Corporation of Columbus was before council in the interest of his company's motor fire apparatus.

The contract with the Ohio Edison Co. for electric energy having expired at the end of March, and no new contract having been made, council authorized the board of public affairs to pay the bills for April and May, $4,801.10 and $4,796.12, respectively.

Voting Machines Not Wanted
The clerk having received a request from the Columbian county board of elections for an expression on the subject of voting machines, he was instructed to inform the board that Columbian village is not interested. The machines weigh 1,000 pounds each.

Dr. K. P. Murphy was authorized to place a street sign at S. Main st. and Felger court, where he is building an office in the rear across the alley from the High school building.

Signs to Be Placed
Representing the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Murphy also obtained permission for the street department to erect the four signs provided by eight manufacturers and the chamber indicating to traffic that it is entering Columbian.

The sign on the east will be on the Clyde Richardson premises on E. Park ave., along Route 14; on the west, the Mrs. Beulah Zellers place on W. Salem st., along Route 14; on the north, the A. G. Davis premises at N. Main st. and Stanton ave., Routes 46 and 164, and on the south at the Enterprise Co., S. Main st., the present Route 7.

Purchase of a five-gang lawn mower for Firestone park from Jacobs & Powers of Cuyahoga Falls for $940 was authorized.

Engineer George Gonzales of Lisbon will be here soon to help arrange for the extension of Stanton and Byers avenues into Edward Holmes' new allotment in the northwest part of town.

Brownies to Meet
The Brownie Girl Scouts, their mothers and the troop committee are invited to an investiture service in the basement of the Methodist church, Friday evening at 7, a business and social session.

Son Graduates
Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Reeves and son Joe were present at the graduation exercises of their son, Paul Edward Reeves who received the degree, doctor of medicine, at the 99th annual commencement of the University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y. on Monday.

Paul graduated from Columbian High school, class of '43. He took his pre-medical training at Colgate university, Hamilton, N. Y., and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity. He will serve his internship in Rochester, N. Y.

Women Win Golf Club Contest

Olive Ramsey, Mrs. Mary Brian and Mrs. F. R. Crowgey were flight winners in the Tuesday ladies day competition at the Salem Golf club.

Miss Ramsey captured the "A" flight, followed by Margaret Stewart. Mrs. Brian carded one of her best scores, 51-52, to top the "B" flight. Mrs. L. H. Colley was second.

Mrs. R. T. Holzbach finished second, behind Mrs. Crowgey in the "C" flight tournament.

Several women from the Salem club played in East Liverpool Wednesday. Of the Salem group, Mrs. John Gonda won low gross score honors, while Josephine Bergant had low net total. Mrs. Arthur Brian won a consolation prize.

Next Tuesday the Salem group will play at Tippecanoe Country club, near Youngstown, and Wednesday will play in Steubenville. There will be ladies golf at the Salem club Tuesday, but there will be no contests or lunch served.

Couple Will Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle B. Harris, Franklin Square road, near Lisbon, will receive friend at their Arrowhead Farm home Sunday from 3 to 9 p. m. on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris are widely known in Columbiana county, having served for many years as superintendent and matron of the county home. Married 50 years ago in Pittsburgh by the Rev. Mr. Layden, pastor of the Presbyterian church, the bride was a daughter of Joseph and Emma French of Salem, and Mr. Harris, a son of Jesse and Lydia Harris, also of Salem.

Open house will be observed during the afternoon hours when the couple will greet friends. They will be assisted by their daughter, Mrs. Martha McAleese.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mayhall and son, Walter, of Tampa, Fla., have arrived for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz, W. Eighth st.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may cause nervous headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, backaches and dizziness. Eaton, Shunn Wedding Held In East Palestine

Cathedral candles lighted the floral setting when Miss Elizabeth Jane Eaton of East Palestine and Arthur Shunn of Salem were married last Saturday afternoon in the East Palestine United Presbyterian church, which was filled with relatives and friends.

The ceremony at 2:30 p. m. was performed by Rev. Orus Rupe, pastor.

Mrs. Elden Meek presented a program of love melodies and Mrs. Howard Wilhelm sang, "Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ice blue crepe and used a coiffure arrangement of white carnations. She carried a white Bible with a carnation marker.

Mrs. Helen Smith, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Costumed in grey, she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Walter M. Walter of Salem was best man. Robert Eaton of Pittsburgh and Richard Noel of Fairfield ushered.

Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Shunn wore grey crepe dresses and corsages of carnations.

The reception was held at the Grim tearoom.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Eaton of East Palestine. She is a graduate of the East Palestine High school and a partner in the Royale Beauty shop.

Mr. Shunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shunn, Jennings ave., holds a position with the L. W. Nash Co.

The couple are residing in Negley.

Pat Keener Honored At Shower Tuesday

Continuing the series of pre-nuptial parties for Miss Patricia Keener, bride-elect of Charles William Butler of Youngstown, her maid of honor, Miss Marian O'Brien of Oak Park, Ill., and Miss Martha Jean Keyes, bridesmaid, entertained Monday afternoon in the Keyes home, Cleveland st.

Kitchen gifts for Miss Keener were heaped in a clothes basket and after the ritual of opening them the guests played bridge.

Preceding the informal afternoon, the 20 guests served themselves from the buffet table. Daisies and roses from the Rose garden were used for the table arrangement and more flowers made the home attractive. A lace cloth and white candles added to the effective setting. Dainty doilies "umbrellas" centered each card table.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Bruce Hack of Lakewood, matron of honor, Mrs. C. Raymond Butler, mother of the groom and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, his sister, from Youngstown.

The bridal shower Tuesday afternoon added nylon accessories to Miss Keener's wardrobe.

Thirty-five were in attendance at the party held in the E. Third st. home of Miss Hazel Linn and Mrs. Winifred Hill. Mrs. Joella Chisler and Miss Helen Mulbach also were hostesses for the delightful affair.

The mothers of the couples, Mrs. Samuel Keener and Mrs. Butler, presided at the silver service. A green and white theme at the buffet table was carried out in white stock and green candles in silver.

Faye Thorne Honored At Party Tuesday

Miss Faye Thorne, who has chosen Saturday, July 16, as the date of her marriage to Edward Shoff, was guest of honor Tuesday evening at a party in the home of Miss Barbara Lane on E. Fourth st.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Shoff of R. D. 3, Salem, while her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shoff of R. D. 4, Salem.

The open church ceremony will be performed at 8 p. m. on that date in the Church of the Nazarene with Rev. E. M. Parks officiating.

The guests at the surprise shower party were members of the clerical staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Those from out-of-town were Misses Helen and Mary LaMonica of Alliance.

Miss Ruth Cosgrove won the game prize.

Places at the table were marked by golden wedding bands, set easel fashion. Love "birds" were perched on the bands. The names "Faye and Ed" were inscribed on the cake, decorated in pink and blue. Garden flowers formed the centerpiece.

Offer Prizes In Club Flower Arrangement

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Sonnedeker are offering a sterling silver vase trophy for the best arrangement in the Salem Garden club's spring flower show Monday afternoon in the public library assembly room, club officials announced today.

Winner of the trophy will hold it for one year and at the next show it will be offered again. The person winning it three times will be the owner.

All entries for the show must be made between 9 and 11 a. m.

The show will be open to the public 3:30 to 5:30.

Any person can exhibit one entry in each class.

Children are invited to enter miniature arrangements.

Honor Newlyweds At Columbiana

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Paul Englert, newlyweds, was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heltzel at their home in Columbiana. White roses and lilies were used throughout the rooms.

Covered with a white linen cloth, the refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom framed in a white lace heart. The cake was set on a mirror base and garlanded with white rosebuds. White tapers tied with white bows were set in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. John Krumleaf and Miss Patsy Harris of Salem, aunt and cousin, respectively, of the bride, served.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Ernest Werner, Mrs. Ernest Underwood and Mrs. Charles Fisher of Columbiana.

Guests were families of the couple and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scullion, of Salem, attendants at the wedding June 11.

The bride is the former Jean Heltzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Englert are residing at 152 W. State st.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonecutter of Shelby were guests Tuesday of Mrs. Ella Ferrall of S. Broadway.

Bel-Jam-Rr Club At Whinnery's

Five hundred was a favored diversion at a meeting of the Bel-Jam-Rr club Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Howard Whinnery, Homewood ave.

Mrs. Walter Minth, Mrs. Purn Siding and Mrs. Gilbert Everhart shared the prizes.

Mrs. Minth, a guest, received the traveling prize and a gift from the hostess.

Mrs. Wayne Siding was presented an anniversary and a birthday gift from her secret pal.

This was the last meeting of the season.

A family picnic is planned for Aug. 17.

Camellia Club Meeting At Endres Home

Mrs. James Benedict of Marysville and Mrs. Bryant Snyder of Salem were guests when Mrs. Ted Enders delightfully entertained associates of the Camellia club Wednesday evening at her home Georgetown rd.

Prizes in the "500" games were claimed by Mrs. Don Heim, Mrs. George Jackson and Mrs. James Benedict.

Mrs. Benedict and Mrs. Heim were presented gifts.

Mrs. Enders served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Nicholas Chitea.

Tentative plans were made for several family picnics this summer.

Weingart Reunion Held At Firestone

The 31st annual reunion of the Weingart family was held in Firestone park with 93 in attendance.

A basket dinner, games and swimming were included in the festivities.

The 1950 officers are: President, Ben Weingart of Leetonia; vice president, Edward Weingart of Salem; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Weingart.

Mrs. Donald Cannon and son, Gail, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cleland are spending three weeks at San Antonio and Texas City, Tex.

Cambridge lady gets desired results in short time with Renell

"Having lost 40 lbs. with Renell, I can hardly praise it enough," writes Mrs. C. S. Broomhall, Rt. 4, Cambridge, Ohio. "Before losing this weight my limbs would become so sore during the day that at night I could hardly turn over in bed without help. Now I feel fine, sleep good, and awake feeling refreshed. I think Renell is wonderful."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Renell from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle.

Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on and be sure to get the genuine Renell.

Navy Is Getting Longer, Tougher Air Arm, Report

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP)—The navy is getting a longer-reaching, harder-hitting air arm. This was the explanation in naval circles today for the carrier modernization plans announced by Secretary of Defense Johnson yesterday with President Truman's approval.

The flight decks of existing carriers are being "beefed up" the ships' elevators are being enlarged and their catapults given greater capacity, to handle new long range patrol bombers and the big jet fighters with high landing and takeoff speeds.

With the tempo increased all around, the navy is even putting in escalators to speed the airman to their planes.

Johnson announced yesterday that this sort of conversion has been authorized for two more 27,000-ton carriers. Their names were not disclosed, but they will come from the reserve fleet.

Cost Estimate

The cost of the work was estimated by navy experts at about $80,000,000 for the two. Johnson said the money would be saved through cancellation of plans to build a 65,000-ton supercarrier. Its cost would have been at least $189,000,000 and perhaps considerably more.

In a commencement speech at the National War college, Johnson referred to criticism of his order last spring stopping work on the supercarrier United States. He declared some had twisted his action into an interpretation that some national defense leaders were persecuting the navy.

Then he said he wanted it understood he is for carriers. His announcement of the two additional carrier conversions followed.

On Capitol Hill, Johnson's action was viewed by some as a recession from his crack-down order on the supercarrier.

Conversion of two 27,000-tonners—the Essex and Wasp—already is under way. The cost of conversion apparently has risen sharply since work started on those two flattops. A few months ago the estimate for changes on them totaled $58,400,000, but it is understood the latest estimate has climbed to about $74,000,000. Another ship of the 27,000-ton class, the Oriskany, is being built, scheduled for launching in a year. Improvements planned for the four existing ships are being built into the Oriskany.

In addition, the three big 45,000-ton carriers—the Midway, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Coral Sea—already have been converted to handle the new type planes.

Thus, the navy will have eight improved carriers within the next two years, when conversion of the Essex and Wasp can be completed.

The aircraft problems that compelled conversion of the carriers are two-fold: Heavier planes and bigger dimensions, including the height of the tail.

Flying P2V

The navy is flying the long range P2V patrol bomber from the Midway class carriers. By air force standards, these planes are medium bombers. P2Vs must be parked on the flight deck. No elevators, even those on the converted carriers, are big enough to handle them.

Among the new fighters going into use is the AJ-1, a combination twin-reciprocating and jet engine job. Fully fueled and armed, that fighter may weigh as much as 30,000 pounds when it leaves a carrier's deck.

In somewhat the same weight category for carrier-based fighters is the AD-1, weighing up to 24,000 pounds.

Others of the jet fighters coming into carrier operation, including the high-speed, high altitude, F9F "Panther" and F7U "Cutlass," run to about 14,000 pounds.

The jet planes impose still another headache for carrier designers. Jet planes, with a high rate of fuel consumption, eat far more fuel than a corresponding number of standard engine planes flown for the same number of hours. Thus the fuel storage capacity of carriers has had to be increased.

Shells To Tell Story Of Ranchers' Life

ALVA, Okla.—Sank Anderson, 66-year-old Alva rancher, is writing his autobiography in shells.

Anderson collected shells and figurines for years before he decided to use them to tell the story of his life. Now, ill since Christmas, he is making a series of lamps each telling some experience in his life through shell patterns and figurine decorations. "I wanted to do something for my kid and this is what I could do best now," Anderson said.

Tavern Bandit Finds Victims Too Rough

CHICAGO—A bandit who invaded a tavern here had to wait until he awoke in a hospital for a fill-in on one robbery.

As the bandit reached the door with $26 from the till, Frank

Murro, a customer, downed him with a flying tackle. Carl Gianglanti, the owner, followed through by slugging him with a bar stool. Murro then grabbed the bandit's weapon, a plastic toy, and broke it over his head, knocking him out.

Only birds and mammals are provided with an internal heating system.

MRS. MESTA, WASHINGTON'S PARTY-GIVER, SURE OF ROLE AS MINISTER TO LUXEMBOURG

By DONALD J. GONZALES
WASHINGTON, June 23 (UP)—Mrs. Perle Mesta, capital party-giver extraordinaire, said today she is confident of success in her post-apparent as this country's first full-time minister to little Luxembourg.

While emphasizing that all her plans are on an if-and-when basis until a somewhat skeptical senate confirms her appointment, Mrs. Mesta said the unfamiliar and untried role of diplomat holds no terrors for her.

"I am not a bit afraid," she told a reporter.

Whatever the reservations of individual senators—and they did not appear likely to block her appointment—Luxembourg already had the Oklahoma oil heirus.

Hughes Le Gallais, Luxembourg's minister to the United States, said her nomination would be a good thing for his country.

Close friends said Mrs. Mesta is determined to leave behind her reputation as a leading light in Washington's social whirl and prove that she can become a hard-working representative of her government.

She said herself that she has no plans for "lavish party giving," although her new post probably will entail some diplomatic entertaining.

Despite its small size, Luxembourg is the world's seventh largest steel producing nation and Mrs. Mesta said she is looking forward to a tour of its steel plants. Her husband, the late George Mesta, was a Pittsburgh machine tool magnate.

He died in 1925. They had no children.

Most of the senatorial doubts about Mrs. Mesta's nomination were voiced by Republicans. But the tone of their remarks indicated that even they would offer little serious opposition.

"I guess she gives good parties," Sen. William E. Jenner (R) of Indiana observed facetiously.

This attractive 5-room frame bungalow was built just before the War when good quality lumber was still available. It is completely modern with hardwood floors and is nicely planned. Water supplied from good spring by automatic pressure system. Garage in basement. This home is situated on nearly one acre of ground and is surrounded by elegant shade. Other buildings include a good work shop and small chicken house. This home is located on a paved road, north of Salem about a mile and a half from city limits. Neighborhood is excellent and children are hauled to Salem schools. This property can be purchased with two thousand dollars cash; balance payable at a low rate of interest at only $44.00 per month.

Here is an attractive new bungalow of four rooms and bath on first floor. One large room and a small room practically all finished on second floor. Good cemented basement with automatic gas furnace. Water supplied by pressure system from good drilled well. It is situated less than one mile from Salem on Depot road and lot is 100 x 300 feet. Is well worth your inspection at only $9500.00.

Good seven room house, all modern located on North Ellsworth avenue. Abundance of beautiful shade, excellent neighborhood. This home is surrounded by home owners, no renters. Will include carpet, stove and refrigerator. We can sell you a lot of 60 x 150 feet or 72 feet x 600 feet. Priced to sell. Owner is very anxious to sell as he has interests in another state.

All Railroads Lead To Chicago During City's Wild And Woolly Railroad Fair

By WILLIAM G. GARRY
CHICAGO—(NEA)—Out in the Hopi Indian country of New Mexico, the medicine men and ritualistic dancers are working the kinks out of their legs. Here in Chicago, workmen are busily re-producing Florida.

It's all part of Chicago's second Railroad Fair, which will open Saturday for a 100-day stand.

The descendants of the mighty warriors who scared the daylight out of early-day passengers on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe are now on the railroad's payroll. They've discovered that doing what comes naturally—dancing—can be a paying proposition, as long as people come to see Santa Fe's Pueblo Village at the Fair. The reproduction of Florida "in its most colorful guise," as the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad calls it, is that line's contribution to a colorful pageant. Another such is the rebuilt narrow-gauge Deadwood Central, which will carry passengers the length of the Fairgrounds just as the original did in the Rockies.

BOSS OF THE FAIR is showman and businessman Major Lenox R. Lohr. Major Lohr, during the dark depression days, produced the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago.

No one knows better than the Major, who earned his title as a regular in the Army's Corps of Engineers, that you can't get the customers back for the second show unless you offer 'em something different. Therefore, he has assembled some new attractions. Visitors will be given free rides on a San Francisco cable car, operated by the Western Pacific Railroad, complete with gong, 600 feet of track and an imported gripman and conductor. Built with slot and cable on a slope bordering Lake Michigan, the little cable car system is a reproduction of San Francisco's Powell and Market Street system.

Overworked last year, the Burlington's Deadwood Central will be given a lift this summer by a second narrow-gauge train operated by the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad. The Rio Grande also has hauled in tons of Colorado red rock to erect a replica of the famed Moffat Tunnel at the entrance to its exhibit.

"GOLD GULCH," a spittin' image of a rip-roaring frontier town, is the biggest single new attraction. In recreating this bit of the Old West, Major Lohr and his associates have brought in the works, up to and including stage some added scenes in this year's edition.

For girls who missed their big chance during "Leap Year," the Baltimore and Ohio is sending to the Fair its Nova Scotia coach, built in London 111 years ago. Legend has it that the maiden who is able to sit in silence in this coach for 10 minutes will be wed within a year.

Although the Railroad Fair's main purpose in life is to show the American people the leading role of the carriers in the development of the nation, it's still a good show. The sponsors contend the customer gets his money's worth along with his lesson.

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

Jersey Joe Walcott, the ring battler who lost out to Ezzard Charles, the new NBA champion, in a fight at Chicago Wednesday night, is a fellow with a lot of confidence.

By confidence, we mean the outside-the-ring type. For today the news services carry a story quoting Walcott as saying that Charles is a "sneaky fighter". His manager, too, sticks out his chin by accusing Charles of hitting low.

In "olden" times such a claim by fighter and manager might have been taken more seriously. But in this day and age, when practically every fan from Chicago to the east coast watched the contest on television, talk like that doesn't go over so well. Too many saw the fight.

When that many people are watching, plus the relatively few who actually sat at ringside, it's quite a statement to accuse your opponent of foul play.

Perhaps Jersey Joe is anxious to try again and figures that by a few insults to Charles he can swing another match. It's a poor approach, but that may be behind the accusation.

But the interesting angle of the fight in Salem was not the television show itself, but the turnout of fight fans who made their ways to various sets throughout the city to watch the first major heavyweight battle ever seen here.

Several downtown stores had sets operating in their windows and large groups were gathered on the sidewalks around there. The bars, of course, were crowded as usual and one appliance store featuring the fight was filled.

Everyone was pleased to see a little fight right here as it happened, even if the battle wasn't all that an ardent fan had hoped it would be.

It's quite a different sensation to see the actual fighting rather than to depend on a word description from an announcer who must fill time and make things sound colorful.

The fight itself reminded this observer of the words of Dan Parker, columnist for The New

Ezzard Charles Realizes Life's Big Ambition

WINS DECISION OVER WALCOTT FOR NBA TITLE

Judges, Referee Vote Same On Decision; Walcott Is Ordered To 'Fight'

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, June 23—(AP)—Ezzard Charles, who wanted to be a ring champion ever since he started boxing at the age of 14, has realized his burning ambition.

Last night, after 13 years of slugging his way to the top, this 27-year-old Cincinnati Negro won the NBA version of the world heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis by decisively defeating Jersey Joe Walcott in a 15-round battle.

Charles won the unanimous decision of the three officials, approval of the National Boxing association, the consent of Louis and the blessing of the newly formed International Boxing club, promoters of the bout, which has an exclusive three-year contract with Charles.

But now Charles has to convince the New York Athletic commission, which is on record as favoring a tournament among contenders, and Massachusetts, which does not belong to the NBA. England, too, will have a champion of its own Sept. 6 when the British board of boxing control recognizes the winner of the Lee Savold-Bruce Woodcock bout for the crown.

The contest was fought in Comiskey park, home of the Chicago White Sox, where 12 years ago to the night Louis won the championship by knocking out Jimmy Braddock.

The crowd of 25,392, which paid $246,546, was not disappointing to Arthur Wirtz, James D. Norris and Louis, who formed the IBC. However, it was in sharp contrast to the 45,500 fans who paid $715,470 to see the Brown Bombardier get off the floor in the first round and flatten Braddock in the eighth.

Charles' victory over the 35-year-old Camden, N. J., family man was decisive. Walcott staked everything on a knockout blow in the first two rounds. But the faltering veteran, who one year ago was beaten into submission by Lewis, had lost much of his speed and ring cunning as the result of a year's absence from the ring.

Charles fought a cautious battle. He had his aging foe on the way to a knockout in three different rounds, but Jersey Joe possessed the ring generalship to escape a knockout. He backedpedaled and failed to fight in the closing rounds. Between the 12th and 13th, Joseph Triner, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic commission, ordered Referee Dave Miller to tell Walcott's handlers to make him fight.

Walcott apparently fought only to remain on his feet until the finish.

Charles at 181½ gave away 13½ pounds to Walcott who scaled 195½.

The two judges were in complete accord with Referee Miller in scoring the fight. Judge Frank "Spike" McAdams voted 78-72 for Charles, and so did Judge Harold Marovitz. Referee Miller's card gave 77 points to 73 for Charles.

The announcement of the unanimous verdict knocked Jake Mintz, one of Charles' four managers, into a complete faint. He collapsed in a neutral corner when Charles was proclaimed the new champion. He quickly recovered, however, and left the ring under his own power after a stretcher had been hustled in to carry him out.

Between his first and second errors of the season, second baseman Eddie Miller of the Phillies accepted 159 chances without a bobble.

Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby were the only major leaguers to bat over .400 three times.

Vernal Jones, 1st Sacker For Cards, Does Great Job, Has 17 Hits In Last 38

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Quick now, who is the regular first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals?

The average baseball fan probably has to think twice before answering "Vernal (Nippy) Jones," but the 24-year-old Sophomore first sacker, in his colorless, but efficient way, is doing a bang-up job for Manager Eddie Dyer.

Although he is shoved into the shadows by glittering teammates, it is doubtful if any other Redbird has done as much as Jones during the past 10 days to boost the Cards up to their present spot in the National league standings—a mere half game out of first place.

In the Cards last nine games with Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, Jones has wrecked enemy pitching for 17 hits in 38 times at bat. He's driven in 17 runs and boosted his season mark 41 points to a respectable .311.

Jones collected three hits last night to help the Cards defeat the Giants, 11-8. The victory moved the Redbirds to within a half game of the first place Brooklyn Dodgers, who were defeated by the Reds in Cincinnati, 4-3.

The Cards won the hard way, making up an 8-1 deficit with three runs in the fourth, two in the sixth and a winning five in the seventh.

Cincinnati had to go 11 innings to defeat the Dodgers. Three successive singles by Peanuts Lowrey, Grady Hatton and Walker Cooper furnished the winning run after two were out. Ewell Blackwell pitching two and a third innings of relief, received credit for his first victory of the season.

A trio of homers by Herman Reich, Hank Sauer and Pitcher Dewey Adkins helped the last place Chicago Cubs outlast the Boston Braves, 9-8. Bob Muncrief, one of the 10 pitchers used in the game, was credited with his first victory as a Cub.

Dino Restelli, rookie Pittsburgh outfielder, celebrated the end of his first week in the majors by blasting two homers—his fourth and fifth—to lead the Pirates to a 12-3 triumph over Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies. Vic Lombardi went all the way to notch his first victory of the season.

The Detroit Tigers regained second place from the Philadelphia Athletics, defeating the Red Sox in Boston, 13-4, while the A's were bowing to the Cleveland Indians in a 14-inning thriller, 7-3. The triumph, coupled with New York's split in its doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns, left the Tigers four games behind the front-running Yankees.

The Yankees received a scare from the cellar-dwelling Browns who whipped them, 5-1, in the opener. However, the Yankees came back to outscore the Browns, 10-8, in the nightcap. In the other American league game, the Chicago White Sox, behind the steady hurling of Southpaw Bill Wight, defeated the Senators in Washington, 4-1.

The Tigers blasted four Boston pitchers for 18 hits, good for 26 bases. Johnny Lipon got four, and Paul Campbell and Vic Fertz got three apiece.

The Browns came within an eyelash of winning a doubleheader from the Yankees. They knocked out Vic Raschi, belaboring the ace right-hander with 13 hits in less than six innings of the nightcap, but Tommy Henrich's 14th homer in the last of the sixth, with one man aboard broke up an 8-8 tie.

Dale Mitchell's triple with the bases loaded broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Indians a 14-inning triumph over the A's. The win moved the Tribe into fourth place past the Red Sox. Bob Lemon, who replaced Starter Gene Bearden in the eighth, allowed one run in seven innings to receive credit for his seventh victory. Carl Scheib was the loser.

Adolph Weinacker, Michigan State college sophomore from Detroit, is the National AAU 50-000-meter walking champion.

Basketball was introduced at Michigan State college in 1899. Since then the Spartans have won 457 games and lost 324.

The largest crowd ever to witness a World Series game was the 86,288 at the fifth game of the Cleveland-Boston series.

BLISS CONTINUES VICTORY STRING

Defeat Alliance Merchants 8-2 As Russell Hurls Excellent Game

E. W. Bliss Co.'s softball team may not be leading the Salem Class A leagues in wins and losses but as far as the out-of-town opposition is concerned, it's a pretty fair ball club.

Bliss showed another visiting team Wednesday that it is no easy mark. The Alliance Merchants visited West End park for an "extra" on the softball card and lost to Bliss 8-2.

Bliss had it all the way. Wayne Russell allowing only two hits, whiffing 18 batters and issuing only three walks. Where the oval was remained a mystery to Alliance most of the night.

Del Court slammed out a single and homer in two trips while Moore and Russell each hit triples. Salem started off with five runs in the first.

Walcott Claims Charles "Sneaky"

CHICAGO, June 23—(AP)—Having flung his leather at Ezzard Charles without avail, Jersey Joe Walcott has decided to fling some mud.

While Charles, newly-crowned NBA heavyweight boxing champion, was paying somewhat of a tribute to loser Jersey Joe by saying "he can take it," Walcott called the 27-year-old Cincinnati belter "a sneaky puncher."

Weary Walcott told a dressing room crowd that "Charles is not a great fighter—he's a sneaky puncher who hits coming out of the clinches. When the referee broke us, I stopped fighting, but that dirty fighter kept banging away."

Felix Bocchiechio, Walcott's manager, chimed in: "Charles kept hitting low every round—they were punches that hurt my boy."

Davey Miller, veteran referee, discredited Walcott's charge. "I thought both fighters broke pretty well for big guys," he observed. "I didn't see any punches thrown coming out of clinches."

Walcott, 35-year-old father of six children, is not ready to call it quits.

"I'd fight Charles again next week, if it could be arranged," he insisted. "I'm going to Camden (N.J.) to rest. Then I'll be ready to fight anybody."

NEW YORK—(Jerome stadium)—Steve Belloise, 162, New York, stopped Cleve Bailey, 159, Engelwood, N. J., 5.

BOB LEMON'S FINE RELIEF CHORE WRAPS UP 14-INNING WIN FOR TRIBE

WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians pulled themselves back into the first division today, but it took a 14-inning game to turn the trick.

A triple by Dale Mitchell with the bases loaded was the payoff punch as the Tribe finally won the 7 to 3 verdict last night over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Mitchell's triple, coming with the count knotted 3 to 3, brought in Bob Kennedy, Jim Hegan and Bob Lemon. A single by Ike Boone scored Mitchell for the fourth run in the inning.

The game probably would have ended in a tie if the uprising had not come. It was 12:46 a. m. when the Athletics ended their bats and the game.

According to league rules, no inning can start after 12:50 and Philadelphia city regulations forbade play after 12:59.

In the last of the ninth, Lemon had issued a walk with the bases loaded to Catcher Mike Guerra. This provided the 3 to 3 tie that lasted until the 14th.

Gene Bearden opened on the mound for the Tribe, but was replaced in the eighth by Lemon after he became tired and increasingly wild. He had allowed seven hits and issued six walks.

Lemon, who was credited with the victory, gave up only four hits in his seven innings.

sible for the lifting of the Berlin blockade by Russia, as well as any other progress the western powers have been able to make recently in the cold war.

The Atlantic pact was submitted to the senate by President Truman several weeks ago. After Sec. Acheson left for Paris considerable sentiment developed among members of congress to hold up action on the pact until the outcome of the foreign ministers meeting was known.

The possibility also was raised at the Capitol that the arms aid legislation, calling for an outlay of about $1,450,000,000 to western Europe, Greece and Turkey, might not have to be passed at all this session.

Dutch Plane Down
In Sea, 35 Missing

BARI, Italy, June 23—(AP)—A four-engined KLM (Royal Dutch airlines) plane crashed in the sea off Bari today, killing an estimated 35 persons, a Bari newspaper reported.

The newspaper, Gazzetta Del Mezzogiorno, said 21 bodies already have been recovered from the sea just outside the port of Bari. Earlier dispatches said the plane went down in flames from an altitude of about 15,000 feet.

The KLM office in Rome was advised by the Dutch vice consul in Bari that the ship apparently was bound in from Batavia to Amsterdam. Persons aboard were said to include Americans, Dutch and Turks.

The air ministry in Rome announced a plane had crashed, but had no details.

Gazzetta Del Mezzogiorno said women and children were among the passengers.

From Cairo, the KLM office said, the normal course of these planes is over eastern Greece, Yugoslavia and Germany. This would indicate the plane which crashed today might have been off course.

Deaths

MRS. BERTHA COZAD
Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Cozad of 636 Park ave., were called to Oakdale, Pa., Wednesday due to the death of his mother, Mrs. Bertha Cozad.

Mrs. Cozad, 73, widow of Charles Cozad, died of complications Wednesday at Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, following a three week illness.

Survivors besides her son Charles of Salem include a son John of Oakdale and daughter, Bertha of Pittsburgh; nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren. A daughter, Bessie, preceded her in death.

Other Salem members of the family will attend the funeral at 2 p. m. Friday at the Thomas funeral home in Oakdale.

been called to the phone by Jake Clayman (Ohio CIO secretary-treasurer)," he said.

Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly, who presided, consulted rule books frequently before deciding question of procedure. At one point, he ruled senators could not vote on rejection of the conference report because Metzbaum took it back. He was overruled on the tenth roll call.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) tried to ask Metzbaum where the report was. Metzbaum refused to answer.

"That's Contemptible"
"That's contemptible," said Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott (R-Franklin), minority leader. "Copies of the report have been released," he added. Boyd waved one at Metzbaum.

Sen. William H. Daddens (R-Hamilton), a conference committee member, took the floor. "This is not your personal property," he said. Addressing the senate, Daddens added:

"He purports to force tolerance on people by legal methods. Now you see the greatest intolerance from a man who refuses to submit this report."

Daddens asserted the committee could not reconcile compulsory FEPC passed by the house and an educational program voted by the senate.

Metzbaum expressed amazement, then said:

"He (Daddens) knows the committee spent hours trying to work out a report that would be fair to all. It's a compromise, a mild version of the house bill. I wanted to delay a report on this bill so everyone can know what's in it."

Nye asked for the report and Metzbaum turned it over. He then sought to postpone a vote on it until today but lost out. That cleared the way for the final roll call and rejection of the report.

Refusal of either house to accept a joint conference committee report dooms the legislation. It had followed a stormy course. The house voted 70-61 March 23 for compulsory FEPC. The senate passed an educational program 30-1 May 23. A conference committee began seeking a compromise May 23. It agreed 4-2 on the conference report Tuesday.

Members withheld the conference report from the house after learning of its difficulties in the senate.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—To understand a Frenchman all you have to do is to take a ride with him in his motor car.

After five miles you will know the spirit of France better than if you had read a hundred histories. You will never again sell the French short, or believe they are through as a nation.

For the Frenchman hasn't let the machine age take romance out of his life. His motor car isn't just an instrument to get him somewhere efficiently. It's a four-wheeled adventure—a vehicle that lets him play highway chess at 60 miles an hour.

I learned all I want to learn about the dauntless character of the French the other day in a ride from Caen to Paris. My fellow passengers were two ex-jeep-mates from the war days—

George Hicks of the National Broadcasting company and Jack Thompson, the Chicago Tribune's bearded military expert.

OUR VOITURE WAS a new tiny model Renault. In a Detroit factory it might be stepped on as an oversize cockroach. But these little cars, which sell for $800 to $900 and get 50 miles to a gallon of gas, are popular in France.

We three shoehorned in with the driver and had some trouble closing the door. It kept rebounding from Jack's beard. Finally he managed to twist his head. Someone outside quickly slammed the door, and we were off.

There has been no ride like it since Paul Revere rode to spread the alarm and Sheridan galloped to Winchester, 15 miles away. It turned out our driver wasn't just a chauffeur. He was Barney Oldfield and Sir Malcolm Campbell. He was D'Artagnan carrying a message from the queen. He was Roland, blowing his horn at Roncesvalles. And when huge trucks bore down on us he was "Papa" Joffre, the Rock of the Marne.

Down the road our little car sped at 100 kilometers an hour like a maddened waterbug. Our driver drove like a Frenchman making love or painting a picture—with zip, passion, artistic frenzy.

We grazed the handlebars of bicycles, and they peeled off to the right. We skimmed the paint off motor cars coming at us, and they sheered off to the left.

"Anybody got a can opener—let's bail out," someone screamed.

Then we got caught in a series of traffic jams. Elsewhere in the world when there is a traffic jam, the vehicles come to a tangled halt, unable to move.

NOT ON THE road to Paris. The bigger the jam the faster it moves. Everybody gears up and hundreds of cars going in opposite directions thread through each other in shifting, weaving honking masses at 60 miles an hour.

"Stop! Halt! Slow down!" we yelled. The driver turned, grinned, circled a truck and picked up speed. He wanted the Americans to have a good time.

After the third traffic jam I found myself mumbling a codicil to my will. Hicks was murmuring what I took to be a prayer. Thompson's beard was turning a silent blue.

By some miracle we reached Versailles, on the outskirts of Paris. As suddenly as it had erupted in frenzy, traffic slowed down to a gentle, 50-mile-an-hour crawl.

It was then we discovered our driver was boiling mad. By gesture and phrase he let us know why. It seemed a truck had swerved into his path without honking a horn. And he was angry because he hadn't crashed headon into the truck to punish it.

"A Frenchman would rather get into an accident if justice is on his side than avoid an accident and feel he had not insisted on his right," he said with dignity.

That is all anyone needs to know about the French spirit. He'll hold on to it—even if it lands him in a ditch.

RARE DOCUMENTS IN HOOVER LIBRARY

Come From All Over World As Largest Collection

By ALBERT PICKERELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
PALO ALTO, Cal.—(UP)—A Norwegian forwarded a remarkable set of Nazi occupation posters to Stanford University's Hoover library. No money, but would the library please send him a case of Scotch? He has to entertain a lot of foreigners.

A woman editor in war-ravaged Greece sent the library a valuable collection of underground newspapers. Would the library please send a one-volume Shakespeare? The Nazis had burned her books.

Similar incidents are countless. But it is mostly the diligent and sometimes fearless work of a world-fung staff that has made the Hoover library on war, peace and revolution today the world's largest collection of 20th century social literature.

Now, with eight floors of the library interior completed after wartime construction delays, library employees are shelving many of the valuable World War I and postwar documents recently acquired.

Built at a cost of $750,000, the 285-foot new Romanesque tower now has 14 floors of working space. They house more than a million items collected in 60 countries, in 35 languages.

Included are rare, secret memoirs of foreign chancellors and cabinets, significant state papers of Revolutionary parties and governments. There are even some 300 sealed envelopes, some of which cannot be opened for many years.

The library today is also a teaching institution, offering post-graduate courses to those preparing themselves for governmental or private service in international affairs. It conducts research in many fields.

It was while directing relief operations in Europe after World War II that former President Herbert Hoover got the idea of a library to house documents on the causes and consequences of war and revolution and the problems of peace.

Specifically, the story goes, it was while crossing the North Sea in 1914 that he decided to take the lead in establishing such an institution. Instead of being concerned about enemy mines in the North Sea, he was reading in Andrew White's autobiography the observation that most of the French revolutionary documents had been lost.

Helped by Pershing
Hoover talked Gen. John J. Pershing out of 15 members of the AEF. Most of them were historians of various rank. Hoover set them to work and soon material was flowing by the bale, in empty food ships, back to Stanford, from where Hoover was graduated in 1895.

Today, the library maintains full-time collectors in several countries, but it still gets material through luck or the de-Germany Julius Streicher's persons who want to help in building up the library, "a tower to peace."

An American sergeant, a former Stanford student, spotted in Germany Julius Streicher's personal file of his Nazi newspaper, Der Sturmer, and forwarded it to the library.

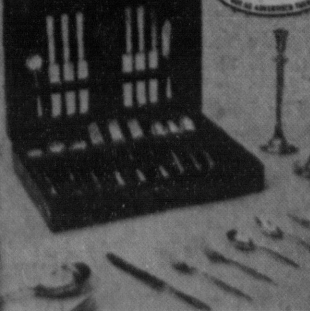

There's no telling what the day's mail will bring forth from the staff collectors, or hundreds of contributors. By freight and mail, the documents pour in, at present faster than they can be catalogued and shelved.

And no one knows, what's in some of the 300 sealed collections, deposited with stipulated dates for opening. There's a persistent rumor they include the memoirs and diary of Mata Hari.

Beheading was formerly considered an honorable form of execution.

Communism Threat In Only Two Spots Outside 'Curtain'

COLUMBUS, June 23—(AP)—Communism is a threat in only two countries outside the Iron Curtain, the labor information chief of the European Recovery program said today.

"Only in France and Italy is Communism now a major threat," said Harry Martin, who also is president of the CIO American Newspaper guild.

Martin spoke at a news conference. He flew to Columbus from Paris to aid plans for the 16th annual convention of the ANG beginning next Monday.

The threat of war, said Martin, has faded into the background, particularly since the signing of the Atlantic pact. But, the ANG president was pessimistic over the probability of reaching an accord with Russia.

"I can't see that the situation has gotten any better," he said.

Martin, who is on leave as amusements editor of The Memphis Commercial Appeal, declined to place himself as a definite candidate to succeed himself as ANG president.

"Let's say I will be available," he said.

Election of guild officers is by mail ballot, but about 250 delegates will nominate officers on the closing day of the convention next Friday.

Martin devoted most of his conference to European recovery, principally to support of the $4,000,000,000 appropriation asked by ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman.

He said the appropriation proposal already was cut some $500,000,000 by Hoffman.

"Any further cut would cripple operations badly," Martin said. "We have gone as far as we can go in reducing the programs this year."

Sulgrave Manor, near Oxford, Eng., ancestral home of George Washington's family, now is the property of the Colonial Dames and is maintained by them as a memorial.

Summon Potters Before Convention

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 23—The National Brotherhood of Operative Potters has summoned at least five members of subordinate locals to appear for "hearings" at the national convention opening Monday in Atlantic City.

Special delivery letters signed by James M. Duffy, president, and Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, were received by National Potters.

man Whipper, Sheldon Johnston, George Crossen, Ed Cranstons and Clyde McDaniel demanding that they appear to answer various charges.

The five, along with Larry Finlay, challenged the salaries of the two top officers of the AFL union in a series of court suits that began in February, 1948.

Columbiana county common pleas court ruled the officials took unauthorized salary increases and threw out a referendum conducted among the locals that Duffy and Jordan said, upheld their right to the higher pay.

The letters charged some of the district potters with "taking a union matter to court without exhausting available remedies," and others with "electioneering among various locals" when the national officers were elected last month.

Bigger Pork Supply Due, Reports Show

WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP)—Bearing out earlier forecasts of bigger pork supplies to come, an agriculture department survey today put the 1949 spring pig crop at 59,040,000 head. This is an increase of 15 per cent over last year's spring crop.

Spring pigs will provide the country's pork supply during the coming fall and winter.

The larger supplies of pork will be offset to some extent, however, by smaller supplies of beef and lamb.

At the same time, the department forecast a 1949 fall pig crop of about 37,000,000 head. This compares with the 1948 fall crop of 33,995,000 head. Fall pigs will go to slaughter market in the spring and summer of 1950.

If the fall crop forecast is borne out, the total production of pigs for 1949 would be about 96,000,000 head — the largest since 1943, when a record crop of 121,800,000 was produced. Last year's production was 85,261,000 head.

In showing a spring crop of slightly more than 59,000,000 head, the survey supported predictions by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that heavy fall and winter marketings of hogs may force producer prices below an average level of $16.50 for 100 pounds guaranteed by the government.

Government livestock experts have said that if today's survey indicated a spring crop of more than 58,000,000 head, the supply of pork later in the year probably would be larger than consumers would buy at prices necessary to assure farmers of price guarantee.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, June 23—(AP)—President Truman wants to create a brand new government department, called the department of welfare.

This was one of the seven plans he laid before congress this week as part of a program to reorganize the government and make it run better.

To understand why he did this, and the background of it, imagine you're looking at a chart of the government's make-up. You start with:

FLAKORN

CORN MUFFIN MIX
Ready easily, quickly. 12 crisp and tender corn muffins by just adding an egg and milk to Flakorn. Perfect result every time because ingredients are perfectly mixed and blended. You'll be delighted.

1. The nine big departments whose heads are members of the President's cabinet: State, justice, labor, commerce, agriculture, interior, postoffice, treasury, and the military establishment (Army, Navy, Airforce).

2. Then you see the big independent agencies and commissions which stand alone, not connected with any department, such as:

THE FEDERAL security agency; civil service commission; and the interstate commerce commission.

3. Then you see swarms of smaller agencies and bureaus tucked away inside of (because they're part of) the departments and the big independent agencies, such as:

The federal bureau of investigation (FBI) in the justice department; the U. S. office of education in the Federal Security Administration (FSA).

Those big independent agencies, created from time to time to fit some special need, have grown with the years, in size and importance.

The FSA, for instance, with 35,

APPLIED TO BE RED—Dr. Isador S. Edelman, 29, holder of a $3750-a-year Atomic Energy Commission fellowship, told a joint congressional atomic committee he applied for Communist Party membership in 1943 but was never admitted. The committee is investigating the commission's policy of making education grants without screening Reds from the applicants. Edelman is on the medical staff of Harvard University.

000 employees, is bigger than three government departments:

The Labor department has only 3,500 employees; the State department has 20,000; the justice department, 26,000. Next in size is the commerce department with 40,000.

Now Truman wants to create a new government department by changing the name of the FSA to that of the department of welfare. The FSA was established in 1939 but Truman says creation of a department of welfare is long overdue. Why? He says of the FSA:

"The central purpose of the FSA is the conservation and development of the human resources of the nation. The range of its programs and the significance of their impact upon national development obviously entitle it to a place in the highest rank of federal organizations."

The FSA now has a number of agencies under its wing. If it became the Department of Welfare Truman would want it to keep those agencies which promote the health, welfare and social security of the people.

FOR EXAMPLE, the Department of Welfare would keep these agencies which the FSA has now:

U. S. Public Health service; Social Security administration; U. S. Office of Education; Food and Drug administration; and the Bureau of Employees' compensation (it handles injured government workers).

Other agencies, now part of FSA but which Truman thinks belong outside a welfare department, would be transferred elsewhere.

Truman points out the idea that a Welfare department is needed is not new:

President Harding suggested it in 1923; and a special committee appointed by President Roosevelt in 1937 recommended a department of social welfare.

And the Hoover commission—a special, 12-man commission appointed by congress and headed by former President Hoover to suggest ways of making the government run smoother—recently recommended:

Setting up a government department to handle the social security and education jobs of the government.

Truman's plan doesn't follow in every detail the recommendations of the Hoover commission.

Recess Negotiations

PITTSBURGH, June 23—(AP)—The U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO-United Steelworkers have recessed their contract talks indefinitely.

The union completed its "verbal" presentation of its case yesterday. Philip Murray, CIO and USW president, now is expected to prepare a written presentation for delivery to the corporation by Monday. Further negotiation sessions are expected to follow with U. S. Steel giving its answer.

Customers' Corner

Correct prices, plainly marked, are essential to good food shopping.

You can best stay within your budget when you know as you shop how much each item is costing you.

That is why we have a rule in our stores that the price of every item should be plainly and accurately marked on the item, shelf or case.

We hope you find this policy helpful; and that you will tell us if you should ever find that we have made an error.

We would appreciate any suggestions you might have for the improvement of our price marking system or anything else that will make your A&P a better place to shop. Please write:

TYPHOID WORSE DISEASE THAN POLIO; CLAIM

By PAUL D. DEATON
COLUMBUS, June 23—(INS)—One of the summer time, vacation time diseases which causes public health authorities even more concern than the dreaded polio is a man's disease—a young man's disease.

This is typhoid fever and its nephew, paratyphoid.

Dr. Charles R. Freebie, head of the communicable diseases division of the State Health department explains that typhoid is spread by the four F's. These are food, fingers, flies and feces, with the emphasis on food and its attendants, milk and water.

Freebie says the disease primarily attacks young people and that males seem to be slightly more susceptible than women.

He explains the phenomenon in this fashion:

"Young people, and particularly the boys are more likely to wander down the road a piece. They take a drink when they're thirsty and their food where they find it."

Older Folk Safe

"The old folks, they stay a little closer to home where things are run a little more on a system."

Freebie says "carriers" spread the disease too, but little is known about how they accomplish that without killing themselves. The carriers are persons who bear typhoid germs in their bodies without being sick themselves.

Usually they are people who have had typhoid, Freebie says, but still they don't run true to the usual theories of immunity.

The doctor says carriers frequently are women and the germs often lodge in the gall bladder. He explains that a carrier can be controlled by law but that public health workers much prefer to work through education of the individual concerning his responsibility to society—emphasizing persuasion rather than force.

The two solutions open to most carriers, Freebie says, are to have the gall bladder removed or to stay away from preparation of food for the public.

Freebie says there's some reason for the high rate of reported polio cases, but the thing that irks his soul is that typhoid goes right along at a steady rate from year to year.

This is particularly irritating, he says, when you consider that so much is known about typhoid. Freebie says:

"In the case of polio, they don't know which virus causes it, but in typhoid, they've known the virus for years. They know what causes it, how it's spread and all about it. Still the disease goes on taking lives, causing thousands of cases of illness and sucking money from the public and private purse."

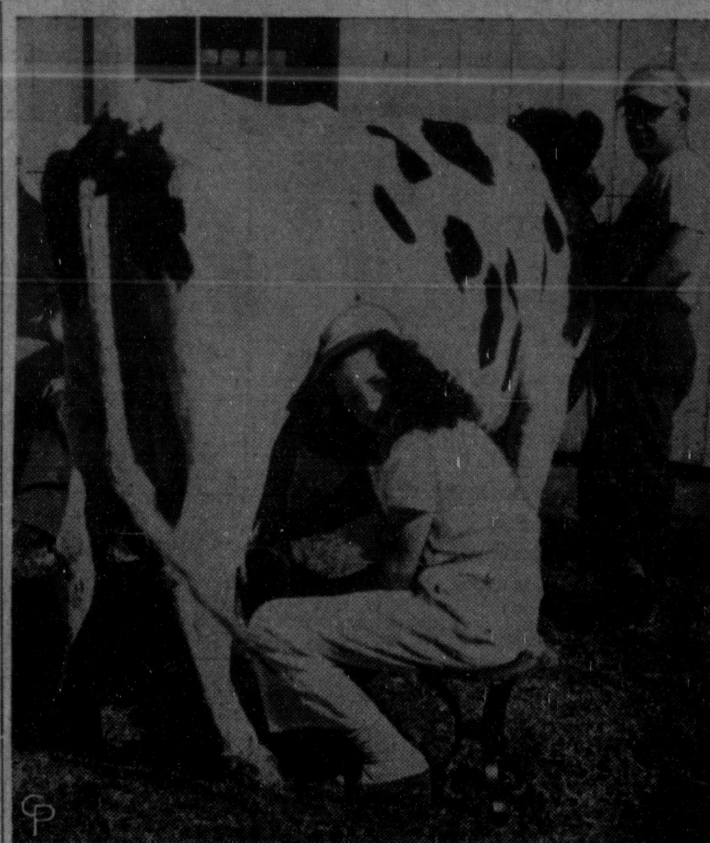

Points Out Cases

He points out that there were 116 cases and eight deaths from typhoid in Ohio in 1947 and 148 cases and 12 deaths in 1948. So far this year there have been 65 cases but no deaths reported.

Freebie grows excited when he recalls that the whole affair could be "virtually wiped out" by observance of a few simple measures. These are:

1. Personal cleanliness.
2. Avoidance of impure food, water and milk.
3. Control of carriers.
4. Immunization.
5. Sewage control.

The health official says typhoid in Ohio is centered in the southeastern part of the state. According to a health department chart covering the years 1934 and 1947, Scioto, Lawrence, Fulton and Pike counties were the worst in the state with Fulton providing the exception to the rule. In the next bracket were Fayette, Adams, Sandusky, Washington, Pickaway, Meigs, Clinton, Monroe, Morgan and Athens counties in descending order of severity.

CUMAXING A GALA WEEK of parades and pageants at Watertown in the heart of New York's great milkshed, 10-year-old Evelyn Fraser wins the 1949 Grand Championship milking title at the Dairyland Festival. The little, but expert milkmaid milked 11.3 pounds (more than four quarts) in two minutes. (International)

Lamb And Pork Declines In Many Markets, Other Foods Remaining Level

By The Associated Press

Lamb and pork prices dropped several cents a pound this week in many marketing centers, reflecting last week's sharp decline at wholesale.

Beef, veal and poultry also were a little lower. Eggs edged upward slightly. Butter was about unchanged. And on the produce counters, canteloupes led a long list of fruits and vegetables cheaper this week, with only tomatoes generally higher.

A survey of competitive chain store prices across the country showed loin chops down as much as 20 cents a pound in some places, and the average decline around 9 cents. Meat spokesmen said the high prices of the past several weeks had virtually priced lamb out of the market for the average housewife, and the present downward trend resulted from consumer price resistance plus larger receipts from Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The pork price declines ranged from two to 10 cents a pound, but there were indications the downswing was leveling off as receipts dwindled.

Meat buyers said hot weather in many sections of the country was keeping demand slow on meats which require long cooking. The price declines were broadest on roasts and stewing cuts, smaller on chops and steaks. Shopper interest focused on cold cuts, chicken fryers and broilers and on dairy products.

Demand for canteloupes and

HITLER'S "WHIM" ON SHOW—The Grille, Hitler's luxury yacht, glides into New York harbor after a 15-day voyage from Gibraltar. He bought the Grille (German for "whim") from the British Admiralty at an auction in 1946 and will exhibit it in this country for charity.

watermelons also was brisk, but shipments of these hot-weather specialties were heavy enough to send prices skidding. The A & P food chain announced the two fruits would be its nationwide headlines this week-end and said canteloupes this season "are the best quality in several years." This was confirmed by agriculture department spokesmen, who added that honeydew and honeyball melons also are excellent and in good supply.

Tomatoes averaged about three cents a pound higher than last week as the Texas crop neared the end of its season. Early summer tomatoes from Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, South Carolina and Mississippi, as well as California, were arriving in increasing amounts, however, and shipments from states as far north as New Jersey were expected in a week or so.

Past Commander Myron A. Kelly inducted the officers.

J. Fred Bryan was installed as commander, succeeding Harold Babb.

The retiring officer was presented a past commander's jewel by Frank Aiken, a past commander, who expressed appreciation of his work.

The Alliance commandery invited the Salem commandery to a coverdinner at 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Salem commandery was also invited to the closed installation rites of Alliance commandery Thursday evening, June 30.

After the seating of the officers, the group went to the dining room for refreshments. White candles in crystal were used on the tables set for approximately 100 members and guests.

Robert Warren, Earl Day, Robert Taber and R. D. Painter made up the social committee, which made the arrangements.

Lunch was served by members of the Commandery auxiliary, headed by the president, Mrs. J. Fred Bryan.

Mrs. Tibball, Mrs. Romoser and Mrs. Stork accompanied their husbands.
